

I'll find your signed ball straightaway!!

Wait right
there, Mr.
Arisaka!

SHERLOCK
BONES

Case 3: ♣ A Golfer's Glory, Part 2

Now I just...

The
one the signed!

...from back then...

That was the one...

The ball
he was holding...

Now I won't have to leave my own ball
here.

This is an unexpected piece of luck.

Don't scare me like that.

Oh...it's just a dog...

Was
that Mr.
Dandobos?

What on earth was he doing
here?

!!

There aren't any signs of strangulation
on his neck,
and he's not bleeding

How did he die?

But...

And Mr.
Harabusa
just ran from the scene.
Did he kill
him?

If someone is struck directly above the heart at just the right time, even a relatively weak blow...

Can cause commotio cordis—a shock that can lead to a fatal heart attack.

I seem to remember reading about this sort of thing in the paper.

Something must have struck it.

His chest...

Was he killed by an errant golf ball?

It happens a lot in sports like baseball and hockey.

He fled the scene, emanating a murderous aura.

But instead,

Like a killer caught in the act.

If this were an accident, he would have called for an ambulance on the spot.

...I think not!

Somehow,
he killed
Mr. Kuchiki!

I have no doubt it was Mr.
Hanabusa.

Is that the mark of a hypo-dermic needle?

A small wound hidden on his neck...

Here it is!!

クク クク クク

Where is it coming from?

But
how...?

I smell... a faint scent
of blood...

Mr?

The ball
signed
by Mr.
Kuchiki!

It's possible that...

...I know!

What do I do?

This does not look good.

The one Mr. Arisaka hit into the woods!!

If I don't do something, it will look like it was his stray ball that killed Mr. Kuchiki!!

Maybe the ball is too hidden for the dog to find on his own.

What's taking Shendog so long?

This is a good picture. I'll send this one, too! ♡

RAWM....

PIPPLE LINE

He's barking up a storm. You think something happened?

huh? Was that Shendog's bark?

Then I'll go look, too...

You could be right!

I...killed
him. I killed Kuchiki-pro!

It was me!
My ball hit
him!

And I'll prove it... with some help
from Watson!

No, you didn't.
This was a murder.

It's not your fault.

Sherdog!!

Miki!!

It's about
time, Watson!

Takeru!

It's about
time, Watson!

It must have his Kuchiki-
pro...

My autographed ball was on the ground
next to him.

It's about
time...

I agree,
Arisaka-
san.

Don't blame yourself.

No... Kocchi-pro warned
me, he said
an amateur couldn't do it.

...son-
daughter.

This
is...

This was just an accident.
The odds of it happening
are a million
to one.

Even if it was your ball that hit
him...

Don't be ridiculous, Arisaka-
san.

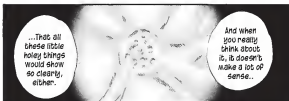

Niki...

Dad....!!

The angle.

Still?
What might that be?

From Miki

I'm sharing the pictures I took of Kuchiki-pro! ♡ He just hit a ball over the trees.
After he left, my dad

Along with that text.

And that picture of the two of them together.

Miki just sent me a picture of Kuchiki-pro's
swing.

Then he was walking down the shortcut through the woods. In other words,

So Kuchiki-pro
hit his ball
first, and it went over the trees.

And Niki's dad hit the ball from behind him. So how did it come from in front of him to hit him in the chest?

He should have been Facing the Fairway
where his ball was.
